

I am writing to strongly protest Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. This is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

It is outrageous that a company that uses the public airwaves free of charge can enter into the political process in such a partisan way. This action violates its mandate to serve the public interest. This is an example of what happens when large companies control the airwaves, and control is centralized in the hands of a few.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Thank you.
